

European Corporate Security Association

The European Corporate Security Association – ECSA is an Association of professional practitioners from the Public, Private and Academic sector who are active in, or contribute to the Security, the Continuity or the Resilience of Corporations, Organizations and Institutions.

ECSA members are managers in charge of Corporate Security, Public Security, Security Risk Management, Security Auditing, Resilience & Continuity,... employed by Corporations, Governments, National, European & International Institutions, Sector Federations & Professional Associations, Academic & Research organizations and the Security Industry.

The objectives of ECSA are:

- To provide its members with a trusted forum for:
  - Sharing common Issues & Experiences
  - Information & Education
  - Networking with co-members and third parties
- To liaise and to promote synergy with relevant Academic, Research, Scientific, Public & Private Organizations and Associations
- To stimulate Public-Private Cooperation
- To set up and maintain a communication channel for information exchange and emergency warnings

The Board of Directors of ECSA is composed of a Representative of the Academic, the Public and the Private Sector:

- Academic: prof. dr. Bart De Schutter, Chairman - Institute for European Studies
- Public: Mr. Noël Colpin, Administrator - Customs and Excise Administration
- Private: Mr. Karel Vankeirsbilck, Chairman Security Committee – Business Europe

ECSA Membership is limited to professional practitioners in good standing invited by the Council to join the Association. Spontaneous applications are subject to scrutiny by the Council and acceptance by the Board. Membership is on a personal basis, with reference to the Employing Organization.

The Association's official language is English. Occasionally, speakers can lecture in other languages, including French, German and Dutch.
